CONSUMERS ATTACK TERMINAL COMPANY

Miss Constance Leupp Fights Rate Increase on Eight-Hour Law Charge.

That the Washington Terminal Company, which cares for the Union Staion and the passenger cars of the railroads using it, is actually making difficult for them to subsist; cleaning cars because it has not taken on any more employes and is trying to do seventy hours' work in forty-eight hours every week. These things and several other pointed statements are contained in letter of objection to the proposed per cent freight rate increase which Miss Conscance Leupp, president of the Consumers' League, sent to Chairman Harlan of the Interstate Commerce Commission this morning. Her letter to the Commission is based on the fact that the Terminal Company is controlled and directed by the railroads using the Union Station.

"Perfectly Outrageous." "It is a perfectly outrageous thing that the Washington Terminal Company is actually making $7,722 annually as a result of the eight-hour law. They ought to thank us for getting it through for them," she says.

The situation, so far as I have been able to learn, is this: They have not increased the number of women they had their employ before the eight-hour w went into effect; they are attempting to do just the same amount of work in six eight-hour days as they former-ly got out of seven ten-hour days, and are paying more than $7,000 dollars a year LESS for it! "We do not pretend that the efficient ork performed in eight full working ours is less than in the former sched-le of ten hours. But we do contend that the same amount of work is no that the same amount of work is not getting the same amount of pay by any means, and that the burden of it, where we can get the facts, is not falling on the Terminal Company at all but on the cleaning, women who are now earning $1.20, as against a former $16.50 a week, and the traveling public, which must, of necessity, be getting a less clean service.

"To indicate the importance of the reduction to the women, I wish to call attention to the fact that I learn through the charitable societies of the through the charitable societies of the city that a number of these women cleaners are widows with children, and that they are the widows of men who have been killed on the railroads. The charities are eking out the reduced wages. It would seem that railreads which are extracting the widow's mite olic and the employes seem to be getting it continuously and reg-ularly in the neck with regard to the working out of the eight-hour law, and as an officer of the Consumers' League, it is going to be my duty to see that the facts are presented to it, and to the officers of the public whose business it is to look after these matters. "The health department is interested in dirty cars and in poor laundry work. And these are two of the things that have come to our attention. It must not be thought for a single minute that the Consumers' League or that the that the Consumers' League or that personally, have any quarrel with e head of the Washington Terminal Company or any of its officers. We haven't. We simply want to set the actual facts that we find before the

we are wrong, we want both the public and the people we compiain of to set us right. But we're sure of our-selves in this particular instance and we intend to let just such bits of infornation percolate through the press the public whenever we can."

Miss Leupp sent a copy of the letter she mailed to Chairman Harlan to Health Officer Woodward and intends to follow up each with a bit of personal talk to each of these gentlemen.

They were decided on because they are absolutely essential to the conduct of our business."

Elmendorf Closes Series With Nile Journey Talk

A trip along the Nile from Cairo to Khartoum was described to an audience that crowded the National Theater last night by Dwight L. Elmendorf, in his Apt. 63, Closing travel talk of the year. "The Nile Journey" proved the most delightful of Mr. Elmendorf's series of talks.

Beginning with views of Cairo, the Excurrer exhibited striking pictures of tap pyramids, and then passed on through Memphis and Dendera to Luxer theore to Karnak with a short discount. or, thence to Karnak, with a short di ression to illustrate the date industry Metion pictures of the great dam at Assours and the wonders of Khartoum
